

There is just something about hearing Bob Lepine on the radio that makes you feel like he understands. He doesn't feel like an expert (more like a trusted friend), but he asks the experts visiting the studio exactly the questions that YOU would ask if you were there. From the first days of FamilyLife Today® in

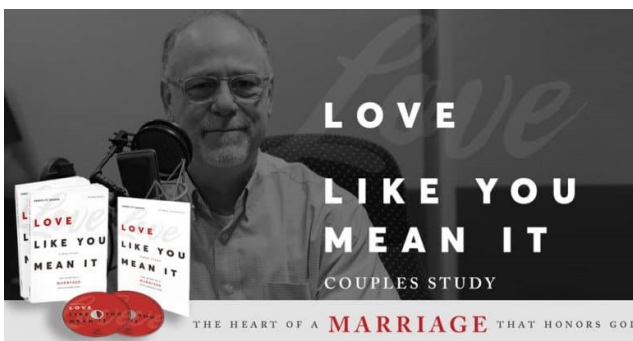

Dennis Rainey and Bob Lepine in 1992 at the beginning of FamilyLife Today® radio broadcasting.

1992, Bob helped direct and shape our audio outreach. FamilyLife Today® went live with Bob and Dennis behind the mike on November 9th, 1992 on 22 stations. Over the next year it spread to 50 stations with more than 200,000 listeners. Today, our program is on hundreds of stations and a multi-program podcast network is available 24/7 online. Bob has also been a driving force behind a lot of projects here at FamilyLife, most notably the “Art of Marriage”, “Art of Parenting”, and “Like Arrows” video resources. All this to say, we will miss Bob as he further reduces his role here at the ministry.

Recognizing the eventual need for a FamilyLife Today host and co-host transition, this change follows a plan that was developed under the guidance of Bob Lepine & the FamilyLife audio team leadership well before Dennis Rainey's transition in 2019. It now continues with Bob's transition to the announcer role, and Dave and Ann Wilson broadening their hosting responsibilities. One thing you may not know is that in addition to his work with FamilyLife, Bob has also served as the David Robbins—“I'm so grateful for the faithfulness and ongoing legacy of Bob Lepine. Not only has he been a wise friend and guide for me during my entry as FamilyLife President, Bob has poured his whole heart into the ministry of FamilyLife Today. The broadcast wouldn't have been possible without his experience, gifting, leadership, passion and creative vision. And the future of FamilyLife Today is in secure hands because of his thorough shepherding and training. Through his sacrifice, humor, and spiritual depth, millions of families have been changed—as well as generations to come.”

If you want to hear more from Bob, remember our broadcast archive on familylife.com is FULL of previous radio programs on many topics available to listen to online anytime. Also, Bob has a new couples study based on his book Love Like You Mean It (a study of 1 Cor 13). Each purchase of the small group kit includes online content—including a personal assessment tool and 10 sessions.

Each session of this online course includes

- A brief Kick Starter to get things rolling
- An engaging 15-20-minute video
- Discussion questions to enhance your own relationship
- A short post-session devotional reading and couple's challenge

teaching pastor at Redeemer Community Church in Little Rock since 2008. Because of his commitment to the local church he serves, he and his wife are not making the move to Orlando where the new FamilyLife audio and video studios will be located. We are so grateful for Bob's willingness to stick around for a few years after Dennis in order to assist in handing off to the Wilsons!

The Wilsons have been hosting FamilyLife Today with Bob Lepine since 2019. Dave and Ann have been speakers at FamilyLife's Weekend to Remember® marriage getaways since 1993. They are contributors to FamilyLife's Art of Marriage® and Art of Parenting® video series, and have been regular speakers on FamilyLife's Love Like You Mean It® Marriage Cruises. So, as you can see, though they may have only been on the radio for a few years, they have been part of FamilyLife for years. We know FamilyLife Today® is in good hands!

In Him,

David Robbins—"I'm incredibly grateful for the ways our team has been trusting the Lord to build on the incredible legacy of FamilyLife Today and seeking to increase its impact among families in the coming years. God's favor and faithfulness have been evident over two years implementing a transition plan. I'm so encouraged by FamilyLife Today being positioned to grow its reach and engagement with families as Dave and Ann bring the timeless truths of scripture and the ways of Jesus to families."

P.S.-You might notice that the logo or 'branding' for the above picture looks a bit different. We believe family is the greatest untapped resource for bringing good to the world. This month we're updating our brand visuals around a symbol that represents that belief, our new home symbol. We're taking on a new look and feel, but our mission and vision remain the same after more than 40 years of ministry.
